UK CS Clan Rankings - Updated

Posted by Dev at 16:54 2/6/2003.

Our very own zeNi has updated the UK CS Clan Rankings to include both divisions of the current OpenCup's and the 3rd UKT LAN which took place at the weekend. As you can see 4K and OMG! have increased their lead over clanONE despite them coming 2nd at the 3rd UKT LAN. The big mover is FightClubClan who move up two places to 6th.

With gotFrag? updating their World and European rankings also getting updated today you now have a pretty accurate scope of how clans are measuring up against eachother at this current time.

Choke MaT Choke 17:55 2/6/2003	Zeni - I dunno if you've read csgn properly but there's a playoff between the 5 group winners to see who the champion is. I could easily see digital onslaught winning it although lastchance are obviously favourites. Your system only takes points from the 'invite' division. From CSGN format section: After the season's end, all divisional winning clans are placed in a play-off mini league. Accompanying them will be the clan which receive the CSGN Fair-Play award. Each clan plays every other clan once, over two maps. The winner of this mini-league is then crowned the CSGN League-Cup Champion. The winner of this will automatically gain Premiership divisional invitation, regardless of whether or not they are all ready in the premiership. [Comment: Report IP: Logged]
