Dev theb0g 12:42 16/7/2003	If the IBIS is full stay where i stayed for UKT1 and UKT3 (if there are spaces). It is a small B&B type place literally 5 mins walk from the LAN cafe. I can't remember the name of it unfortunately but someone will know it. It looks like a pub from the outside but has a fair few rooms. Fairly pricey though but if there is no sleeping bag accomodation now it's prolly best your gunna get. Unless you wanna go homeless for the night =]	[Comment: Report IP: Logged]
DArtagnan Infinity-eSports 12:42 16/7/2003	Although it doesnt bother me much, a 1 day event on saturday isnt a problem, and im only like 35 mins away on train, i feel a lot of people have been really screwed over. I know you've just been in france Rich, but perhaps things could have started to be sorted a little sooner than the beginning of the week. I think a lot of teams had heard about the sleeping bag thing by sleeping in the cafe from saturday-sunday, it wasnt really said that teams would be able to find other accomadation. The majority of teams are teenagers, not all of them could easilly afford hotel rooms.

Other people, like im sure monkey magic will have done, is already paid and booked for like 3 nights as the dancing guiness drinking leprechauns hop over.

Hopefully something better can be found and the event go ahead as originally planned.

	DoZ Anti-saviour of UKT 13:39 16/7/2003	People have done their research. It's Myers who has let them down by saying there'd be accommodation made for them to sleep - and now he has taken that away. With a major sporting event taking place locally (which has been known about for a long time), this is very bad organisation on Myers' part - it's not everyone else's fault in the slightest. If he had said there'd be no accommodation, people would have tried to find some themselves. [Comment: Report IP: Logged]

Myers Saviour of UKT UKTerrorist 13:53 16/7/2003	As always, moaning wont solve anything, finding a solution is what needs to be done. I thought there would be some sort of sleeping bag accomodation either in a community hall or some sort of huge army-marquee style tents, found out this morning that there wasn't, so i put it on UKT, not sure there's much more I can do. Possible solutions: a) 1 day tournament on Saturday b) 1 day tournament on Sunday starting VERY EARLY (8:30am) c) 2 day event still but teams find their own accomodation overnight. d) call off the event completely [Comment: Report IP: Logged] vip Online Multiplayer Gaming 13:56 16/7/2003	well the sleeping situation overnight is gonna be near impossible with the f1 happening, trust me it gets so hectic with 200,000 ppl goin into a county. Cancelling the event is really a cop-out people have booked travel / hotels / time off work and it would just be silly to even consider this. How about a 8.30 start on sunday, i have no quarms getting up for this if it means we can finish in 1 day best choice! [Comment: Report IP: Logged]

Now I am back from France I'm working hard on UKTerrorist 4 event this weekend. I believe my list of clans is outdated and I might be missing some that have I've said yes to since the original list or have some that have since withdrawn. Please contact me if you should or should not be on this list.

A piece of bad news is that due to Silverstone taking place on the same weekend there is no accomodation on the Saturday night arranged. Please can you thus make your own arrangements.

DoZ Anti-saviour of UKT 14:03 16/7/2003	First thing you need is confirmation from each team for how many days they can attend by the end of tonight, in full knowledge that there's no accommodation provided. If there's 16 or less then a single day tournament is on the books and you get the remaining teams to say the day they'd prefer. If there's more than 16 teams then either some have to be cut - which would be the lower ranking ones that haven't had to book time off work / book travel and accommodation arrangements in advance because it'd be causing them the least hassle. If that's not possible then either a 2 day event with a well spaced out schedule takes place because of the lessened number of teams. Alternatively the bracket structure and double elimination is altered to enable people to play it out over a shorter time period - which is not going to be easy unless there's some single elimination period, which will no doubt also upset teams [Comment: Report IP: Logged]

	Myers Saviour of UKT UKTerrorist 14:07 16/7/2003	what we could do is run the tournament straight... As in group stages on the Saturday, then single elimination overnight, would be finished by about 3am...what u think of that? [Comment: Report IP: Logged]
	Samje 14:07 16/7/2003	surly if too many teams dropped out and you had to make it a 1 day event it would be more worthwhile to postpone the whole thing... it would mean those people with hotel bookings would get screwed over... [Comment: Report IP: Logged]

Iccy 14:09 16/7/2003	Anyone who's been to Silverstone during race weekend will know that the roads in and around Northampton will be packed. If you plan to start at 8:30am on the Sunday it means you are going to have to be leaving extra early (if you are driving). Im not sure what the trains would be like but my guess would be that theyd be as bad. [Comment: Report IP: Logged]

Vertakill 14:09 16/7/2003	Basically we got no accom for Saturday (yet) because we were expecting this whole sleeping bag thingy to be sorted, now we're up s creek and our flight home is not until Monday. And since we've already paid for our flights (which turned out to be more expensive than expected), theres not much we can do. [Comment: Report IP: Logged]

	Katori Choke 14:19 16/7/2003	It's looking like it's gonna have to be a one day event on Sunday. Not sure of the best way to decide which 16 teams attend though. Perhaps the place can still be open Saturday too for those of us who can or have sorted stuff out for Saturday night? [Comment: Report IP: Logged]
	DoZ Anti-saviour of UKT 14:19 16/7/2003	If all 22 teams above go, then perhaps the top 6 seeds go into a double elimination bracket. The other 16 play a single elimination bracket with the top 2 teams going into the double elimination.

16 teams single elim with no final being played = 8 games first round, 4 games second and 2 games third which produce the 2 finalists for the 8 team double elimination bracket. (16 games)

The winner bracket has 4 games first, 2 games second, 1 game third and winner goes to final (7 games)

The loser bracket has... I can't remember how many, I lost count (I shoulda done it on paper) - but that should be around the 31 games played in a 16team double elim bracket.

Not ideal, but it's a possibility

Changing it to Saturday now means for our team 2 members wont be able to make it to lan centre till the afternoon for definite because we were told we only needed to turn up Sunday and have booked train tickets accordingly. The other 3 are getting lifts there so dunno if they would be able to make it at all.

I assume this problem could affect a few people from the 4 teams who were told they only needed to come on Sunday.

Duellist Professional Gamer 14:26 16/7/2003	As the race itself is on Sunday and sat is only qualifying I would prefer the event on sat in the hope that the traffic will be less. I think running it through the night is a great idea as it solves the accommodation problem as ppl can just hang around the ITC until the first trains back on Sunday. Oh and if it were to finish later on Sunday then driving back with all the ppl leaving Silverston would be a nightmare. [Comment: Report IP: Logged]

Gilga 14:33 16/7/2003	Nobody so far has actually complained they have nowhere to stay Saturday night except Monkey Magic, whereas lots of people dont seem to happy about changing the format. Perhaps get some confirmation on how many teams would'nt be able to make 2 days before u change it.. [Comment: Report IP: Logged]
saph 14:34 16/7/2003	what about the clans who don't make it through from the saturday to the sunday? are there clans out there, who if they don't make it through will really be totally screwed, or would this help things out, meaning if more clans didn't make it through the saturday event, then alot of clans would be able to make thier way back home on saturday evening/afternoon, leaving a fewer amount of clans who do need accomadation for the monday. for example: on saturday, 3 groups of 6 clans, with top 2 from each clan goin through to the sunday, joining the 4 seeded clans (assuming there are 22 clans signed up) leaving a 10 team double elimination for the sunday? also, this would mean in theory clans would only need to arrive at the centre in time for thier group on the saturday, so not everyone would need to be there for 9.00 or before [Comment: Report IP: Logged]
Smittins 14:34 16/7/2003	monkey magic have prob. paid about a grand between em to come over tho with flights and days off work n stuff, would be pretty harsh on them :o [Comment: Report IP: Logged]

DoZ Anti-saviour of UKT 14:35 16/7/2003	Duellist's post is spot on. It caters for the day the majority have turned up - if we can buy the night licence then we can have it double elim with most of the teams. The ones who can't make it will be a couple of the top seed teams - but it's cater to them, or cater to everyone else [Comment: Report IP: Logged]
Smiffeh Game2XS.Monkey Magic 14:37 16/7/2003	omfg is this the same DArk0r thats wakes up in the middle of the night screaming about how "it wasn't like that" and asks questions like "who the f is that" ??? [Comment: Report IP: Logged]

Geordie Last Chance 14:38 16/7/2003	CUT the teams that cant make it on saturday, and do 16 double elim on saturday myers start pming clans and asking them what they want and see if u can get 16 teams for this i dont care if it fs other ppls plans up, this thing is beyond fed now, i dont want single elim and playing through to the early hours of sunday morning is stupid [Comment: Report IP: Logged]
DArk0r Infinity-eSports 14:38 16/7/2003	it wasnt like that... [Comment: Report IP: Logged]
DoZ Anti-saviour of UKT 14:38 16/7/2003	Because there'd possibly be too many people who'd have to stay there overnight - which would be against health and safety regulations. Something that'd have to be checked [Comment: Report IP: Logged]

Myers Saviour of UKT UKTerrorist 14:40 16/7/2003	christ...i say something very clearly....no response...someone else says it later on, and everyone agrees... what about the clans who don't make it through from the saturday to the sunday? Well these clans would've have had sleeping bag accomodation anyway as that would have been eliminated. So there's not really a concern. We can't really do a 16 team double elimination on the Saturday night, we could only do 8 teams max. Single elimination would be ok however, the top seeded teams would compete in the group stages to due to teams withdrawing. [Comment: Report IP: Logged]

Rude^ Jay Bee Eye! 14:42 16/7/2003	surely you can do group stages saturday, 8 or 16 going thru to sunday, those clans stay for all nighter, rest are eliminated and go home, nothing changes, no one loses money on pre-booked hotels, flights, trains etc???!! [Comment: Report IP: Logged]
DoZ Anti-saviour of UKT 14:43 16/7/2003	If omg and iM can't make Saturday, you have 20 teams - that's only 4 more than a standard day. That's an extra 2-3 games in a double elimination bracket - that's doable in a day [Comment: Report IP: Logged]
Smiffeh Game2XS.Monkey Magic 14:43 16/7/2003	i think the best idea is just to get in contact with the clans for now and see which clans don't have accomodation for the saturday then you can see how many of them would be able to stay at the IT centre. [Comment: Report IP: Logged]
Loxam Lite 14:43 16/7/2003	I think geordies idea is probably the best too, cut the clans that haven't booked flights, etc. If its gonna succeed you need to take drastic action! [Comment: Report IP: Logged]
Myers Saviour of UKT UKTerrorist 14:43 16/7/2003	Ok, we're now left with 2 options a) 16 team double elimination event on the Saturday - Would involve cutting teams at random. And i do mean random. b) 24ish team group stages saturday and single elimination on the saturday night (seeded teams would play in the group stages too to make up the number.

We have no idea how many intended to use the sleeping bag arrangements, and how many made other arrangements. You can't just assume that there's gonna be few enough for it to meet legal requirements the centre has to observe [Comment: Report IP: Logged]
	Loxam Lite 14:44 16/7/2003	a), but not random - if you end up cutting monkey magic for instance it would be extremely unfair with the costs they have forked out. [Comment: Report IP: Logged]

	DoZ Anti-saviour of UKT 14:46 16/7/2003	32 bracket double elimination with first round byes with this amount of teams will not push that far into the night Myers, a couple of hours more than usual - that's a viable option

Myers Saviour of UKT UKTerrorist 14:47 16/7/2003	a 32 team double elimination event is DEF not an option, the setting up time would be a killer, and surely teams would get more games during group stages, at least 3???	[Comment: Report IP: Logged]

DArtagnan Infinity-eSports 14:49 16/7/2003	Would prefer double elim, to remove the damage of a freak result, a.k.a ukt2! But with the amount of teams going, i think 8 teams qualifying through the groups would work best? 4 groups of 6, 2 teams going through, as there appears to be like 24ish teams. Also this way nearly all the teams play a lot more games. The 4 groups are played 1 at a time over the day, that way lots of teams can leave early when they've lost, and also no need for people to arrive before the time of their group, unless of course their arrangements mean they're already there, but they can go wonder round northampton :D	[Comment: Report IP: Logged]
Rude^ Jay Bee Eye! 14:49 16/7/2003	Myers, find out if you can have the all nighter, and which clans would require it, then you can make a logical decision rather than something rash that causes people to lose out for no fault of their own	[Comment: Report IP: Logged]
DoZ Anti-saviour of UKT 14:50 16/7/2003	Random teams getting cut is bs. Monkey magic would be fed over coz of it, we'd have wasted several hundred quid travel arrangements and reworking work schedules. I dunno how bad other teams would be off if they got cut	[Comment: Report IP: Logged]

Well I have a student house in Reading that is currently pretty empty that I own. It could probably sleep around 20 relatively comfortably, though i am talkin kipping on the floor. Transport would be needed to it as my car is already full + it is my house so any people I dont like, simply got no chance. DoZ Anti-saviour of UKT 15:09 16/7/2003	If you have 4 groups of 5 then a single elim bracket, that's 10 games for each group that have to be played, then 4 games for the single elimination bracket, 44 matches. 4 teams can play at once approximately (not possible for the later stages of single elimination bracket), so 44/4 = 11 sets of matches. How long do you allow for each set of matches? 45-60mins for the game, 15 for setup or something. 1hr15mins per match is around 15 hours gaming needed 1hr30 is closer to 17 9:30 start, that means we finish 2:30-4:30am, if everything runs smoothly. A lot of people wouldn't be happy having to drive back at 4:30am [Comment: Report IP: Logged]

The poll should be ignored. (this has been said before) but half the peole voting on it will not be attending the lan and may vote randomly just out of spite. If you take a look you can see that the cancel/postpone option has a significant number of votes and this is the worst possible option. I doubt any of the listed clans want this at all considering how much money and effort their putting into this lan.

i think most clans can get down saturday morning, as that was the plan in the first place. as for accomodation, bosh has said he has room fro 20 people, and if ukt buy the allnighter for the people that have no accomodation, every1 was somewhere to sleep. and if the seeded teams come sunday morning as planned, isnt that just practilly same as it was in the first place.. ?
from what ive read only problem is accomodation. bosh has already offered 20 places, ICT shud be able to hold 20 - 30, and im sure alot people have accomodation. keep the event as planned.. buy the allnighter, other people can sleep at bosh's, and im sure it can work out. [Comment: Report IP: Logged]

Posted by Myers at 10:52 16/7/2003.

Now I am back from France I'm working hard on UKTerrorist 4 event this weekend. I believe my list of clans is outdated and I might be missing some that have I've said yes to since the original list or have some that have since withdrawn. Please contact me if you should or should not be on this list.

A piece of bad news is that due to Silverstone taking place on the same weekend there is no accomodation on the Saturday night arranged. Please can you thus make your own arrangements.
