Calling All UK Clans

Posted by Protex at 16:42 24/8/2003.

It seems there are some new competitions on the horizon for UK teams that could aid in raising the standard of the UK Scene.

The first is a Clanbase supported Cup that is not only looking for teams but also admins. It aims to provide another arena for UK teams to compete and does promise prizes. You can get further information about this Cup at Clanbase.

The second is a tournament that does have a prize list and has such teams as clanONE, OMG! and fcc already signed up. There are a few spaces left for anyone interested and it begins on Saturday 30th August. Details can be found here.

Good luck to all clans participating.
