Read back on UKT. Also does that say im s on lan? No. It could mean im better on lan than online which I doubt, but it could mean im better online than at lan which is quite probably true considering the setup. I played just as well as others against Xtra, omg and iM if you check the HLTV. Do some research, check online results etc and then come over to my house and see my 100% different setup.

How well have Uninspired prepared for this event?
The only preparation we've done is play a few pcw's, get caned by people we'd crush on LAN and curse the existence of CS
Which teams do you think you can't beat if you face them?
4K, what can I say, they'll mash us, ONE I think will come a close second, but I don't really see any other teams in that list beating us if we play well.

Craig Morton worships me like a modern day buddha. he got on his knees at the train station. as does everyone whose ever talked to me on the internet when they meet me in real life. I don't know what I've done to deserve such admiration.

Why should u need to go anywhere?

I believe its cos youll end up with a life
and some friends.

But if u dont youll end up like a fkin
arrogant tt who can only do one thing;
play a computer game....

actually its a bit late for that. I think it's already taken shape.

Stop now, b4 u make more of a tt of
